1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1 The Line 3 Pipeline was constructed in the 1960s by Enbridge’s predecessor and put into service in 1968. The existing Line 3 Pipeline is 34-inches in diameter and 1067 kilometers long. The Line 3 pipeline traverses an international boundary and extends from Hardisty, Alberta to Gretna, Manitoba at which point it crosses into the United States.
- 1.2 On November 5, 2014, Enbridge Pipelines Inc. submitted an application to the National Energy Board (NEB) for the Line 3 Replacement Program (L3RP). A new 36-inch diameter pipeline will replace the existing 34-inch diameter pipeline along most of the original Line 3 Pipeline route. From February 4, 2015 to April 25, 2016 the NEB conducted public hearings on the L3RP application. Thirty-six Indigenous groups were intervenors in the NEB process and two were commenters.
- 1.3 On April 25, 2016, the NEB released its final report for the L3RP. The NEB recommended that the approval be subject to 89 conditions, including conditions related to the protection of the environment and continued consultation with Enbridge, landowners and Indigenous Peoples. On November 29, 2016, the Government of Canada announced the approval of L3RP, subject to the 89 conditions recommended by the NEB. Canada also announced its commitment to establish an Indigenous Advisory and Monitoring Committee, to be co-developed in partnership with Indigenous Peoples along the route of the L3RP.
- 1.4 Through co-development of these Terms of Reference, Indigenous participants in the co-development process have identified the following important principles which are articulated below from the voice of the Indigenous participants:
 - Indigenous Peoples are guided by our Natural Laws: our land is our identity; the earth is our Mother; and our environment is the foundation of our culture.
 - Indigenous Peoples’ interactions with the Crown are guided by the Honour of the Crown, our Treaties and the United Nations Declaration of the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.
 - Indigenous Peoples are distinct and have unique perspectives based on our individual laws, cultures, customs, and traditions, including differences between First Nations and the Métis Nation.
 - As Indigenous Peoples, we view the Committee as a starting point for enhancing future relations with the Crown through the effective implementation, reporting and tracking of our Rights, Uses, Benefits and Interests within our traditional territory which we continue to occupy, use and benefit from.

- As Indigenous Peoples we value our traditional way of life, which is founded on the principles of:
 - Maintaining balance;
 - Respect for all things that mother earth provides;
 - Humility; and,
 - Honour in how we conduct and govern ourselves.
- As Indigenous Peoples, we seek to actively participate in the modern economy. We choose to work with those who respect and honour our traditional and cultural way of life and who are willing to advocate, implement and report upon outcomes respectfully, collaboratively and in a manner which supports our inherent Treaty and Aboriginal rights.

2. PREAMBLE

- 2.1 The Committee will facilitate the integration of Indigenous knowledge, teachings, values, use of the land, oral traditions and worldviews into the monitoring, regulation, compliance, mitigation, remediation, and performance for the lifecycle of the L3RP. To support this objective, the Committee will be guided by:
- a. the Treaty Relationship and Signatories affected by the L3RP;
 - b. s. 35 of the Constitution Act, 1982 recognizing and affirming Aboriginal and Treaty Rights of the First Nations, Métis, and Inuit;
 - c. the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples including all Principles and Articles; and,
 - d. the Calls to Action of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada.
- 2.2 The Committee acknowledges the diversity of Indigenous Nations’ views and respects the various perspectives and voices engaged through this process. In this way, the Committee will contribute to the process of meaningful reconciliation and will not replace or diminish the right of individual Indigenous Nations to be consulted and accommodated.

15. NATIONAL ENERGY BOARD RESPONSES TO ADVICE

- 15.1 Advice from a majority of the Committee. The Committee will use its best efforts to ensure that advice provided to a Regulator or the Government reflects a consensus among Committee members. After making best efforts to reach consensus, advice supported by a majority of members may be put forward on behalf of the Committee for consideration by the NEB or the Government, provided that the Committee members putting forward the advice first:
- a. Ensure that the advice has been provided to all Committee members in final written form, with due respect paid to oral tradition; and

This may include providing specific reasons for how and why the advice was adopted, accepted in a modified format or rejected.

- 15.4 Duties also owed to Indigenous Nations. While sections 15.1 and 15.2 of these Terms of Reference applies only to advice from the Committee, the duty of the NEB to respond to that advice as set out in those sections will be for the benefit not only of the Committee as well as the Indigenous Nations.

16. REACHING CONSENSUS

- 16.1 Consensus model. The Committee and the sub-committees will deal with issues and resolve disputes using a consensus model. A single voice reflecting a consensus will speak more persuasively than advice based on separate voices. Everyone has an equal voice and will have an opportunity to be heard.
- 16.2 Conduct. Members of the Committee, and sub-committees will:
- a. Treat each other and all members’ organizations or Nations with respect and good faith;

Consensus does not require concurrence on every point, but rather broad agreement on the general approach to decisions or courses of action. As part of consensus decision making, points of disagreement may be identified along with an explanation as to why agreement on those points has not been possible. All suggestions for Committee decisions or courses of action are considered tentative until a consensus is achieved.
- 16.4 Dispute resolution. To assist in reaching consensus on particularly contentious or difficult issues, the Committee may retain the services of a facilitator or seek the advice of an independent expert. The Committee may use structured dispute resolution processes where required, keeping with the following principles:

 - b. Committee members can expect adequate time and opportunity to become informed, discuss issues and articulate areas of agreement and disagreement; and

- c. When unable to support a consensus, Committee members have an obligation to explain their concerns and suggest alternative solutions.

17. GENERAL

- 17.1 Participation is without prejudice. It is understood and accepted that Indigenous Nations have varied opinions on the L3RP Activities, and that some communities support the L3RP Activities and others oppose the L3RP Activities. Participating in the work of the Committee, including by an Indigenous Nation member acting as a member of the Committee or a subcommittee, does not indicate that an Indigenous Nation supports or does not oppose the L3RP Activities. Participation in this process is entirely “without prejudice” to the Government’s, the NEB’s and the Indigenous Nations’ positions with respect to existing or prospective litigation. In plain terms, the Government undertakes not to argue or adduce evidence in any current or future legal proceeding that argues, based on an Indigenous Nation’s participation in either or both of these processes: (i) the Indigenous Nation agrees with or otherwise acquiesces to Canada’s position that the Committee is a form of accommodation; (ii) the Indigenous Nation has accepted that it is being accommodated in relation to the Project through its participation in the Committee; and/or (iii) the Indigenous Nation has agreed that the Committee responds to any of the concerns and objections to the Project.
- 17.2 No diminishment of duty to consult. The Committee will be an additional forum for engagement between the NEB and the Indigenous Nations and will not replace or diminish any right of individual Indigenous Nations to be consulted and accommodated by the Government in respect of L3RP.
- 17.3 Not to replace or substitute for engagement or consultation. The Committee will not be used as a forum for the Government to replace or substitute any direct engagement or consultation owed to, or desired by, Indigenous Nations.
- 17.4 No diminishment of Enbridge’s obligations. Any advice or input provided to Enbridge by the Committee is intended to help Enbridge achieve or remain in compliance with legal requirements. This advice does not relieve Enbridge from its responsibility to comply with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements, as determined by the NEB or the Government.
- 17.5 Non-derogation clause. Nothing in this Terms of Reference, or the deliberations and operations of the Committee, shall be construed so as to abrogate or derogate from any Aboriginal or treaty rights of any Indigenous Nation or Nations.

- 17.6 Honouraria. Honouraria will be provided for Indigenous Committee Members and Elders and may be provided to others. The amounts of such honouaraia will be determined by the Committee through its budgetary process.
- 17.7 Procedures and Guidelines: The Secretariat established within NRCan will develop procedures and guidelines for the Committee’s work which will be considered by the Committee for approval.

18. ANNUAL REPORT

- 18.1 The Committee will submit an Annual Report to the Minister of NRCan, the Chief Executive Officer of the NEB and the Indigenous Nations, highlighting achievements and lessons learned. Subject to the provisions of these Terms of Reference, the report will be made publicly available.

19. REVIEW, AMENDMENT AND TERMINATION

- 19.1 Review. The Committee will review the effectiveness of these Terms of Reference, including the structure of the Committee, on an annual basis during the construction phase of the Project and at least every three years thereafter. The Committee may invite the participation of senior representatives of the Government and the NEB as part of this process. The first review will be completed one year after the Committee is established, and will include at least the following:
- a. An assessment of whether and how the Committee has enhanced Indigenous participation in monitoring the L3RP Activities;
 - b. An evaluation of opportunities to align the Committee with any new environmental processes or changes to the NEB or other Government legislative or regulatory framework; and
 - c. A consolidation of early learnings from the Committee operations.
- 19.2 Amendment. These Terms of Reference may be amended by agreement in writing of NRCan, the NEB and the Indigenous Committee Members.
- 19.3 Termination. These Terms of Reference will terminate at the end of the lifecycle of the L3RP Activities, or at some other date, upon the agreement of the NRCan, the NEB and the Indigenous Committee Members.
